Invoice remittance address change

In September, Redwood Toxicology Laboratory, now part of Abbott, made changes to the payment remittance address, including electronic payment information. Please be sure to review your invoice for the new remit-to address.

To ensure that your payments continue to be properly credited to your account, we recommend that you update the remittance address in your system as soon as possible.

NOTE: There is no change in the address for specimen shipment. Please continue to send specimens to our Santa Rosa, California laboratory.

Excellent service is always our top priority. Please feel free to contact your sales representative for further information at 800-255-2159.
